Non – Residential Bridge Course (NRBC):-

The bridge centre acts as the bridge between the dropout lives of the children to the mainstream education. There is one bridge course centre at Kadaloor Periyakuppam. The dropout children are identified through various means, such as the door-to-door campaign and other referrals. Children of various age groups and various levels of education study there aiming at the mingling with the education at school. There are children who dropped out earlier due to poor economical status of the families and failures come to the classes. Children who go for work come at the time that is convenient for them. Joint meetings with parents and the children are arranged to devise a monitoring mechanism for the parents and the staff to monitor the progress of the education of the children.

The necessity of ensuring a secure future to the drop out children was felt very essential. Those who pass out of the Non-residential Bridge Centers go for ITI training, nursing courses and seek other life skill trainings. But it is really essential to find out the scope for each of the training courses and if it is suitable for them and what else they can opt for other than the normal life skill trainings available. So the drop-out children in the bridge centers were advised to use the children's information center of SEA.
